I'm a neat person. Punctual, and respectful about other's time and schedule.

I also consider myself as a creative person and to exploit my potential I started using design tools such as Corel or Adobe.

As I finished my career, my interest changed from interiors to graphics, what led me to be learning Html, Css, Java and React Framework.

I also enjoy speaking different languages, I went to a bilingual school, that's why I speak english fluently and during my time at art school I learned italian, which is my father family language.

I consider my self as a team worker and know how to work under rules and deadlines.
